EXPERTISE

A balanced skill set across technology and leadership. Technically, I specialize in Full-Stack Development, Cybersecurity, automation, and Git version control. I build and deploy apps using Kotlin, Flutter, and native code, with experience in Vercel and Google Cloud. I also work confidently with multiple database types (SQL and NoSQL), including design and optimization. Professionally, I bring strong leadership, team management, quality control, and workflow improvement—supported by a military background that strengthens discipline, resilience, and consistent execution.
